

- A possible solution to interconnect data centers to the external world (Internet) is through the use of border pods. This solution has the advantage of isolating the inside of the data centre from outside, preventing that the internal protocols never interact with the external ones.

Source: <https://www.oreilly.com/library/view/bgp-in-the/9781491983416/ch01.html>